

To whom it may concern,

I am writing in my capacity as Head of the IT Department at the Catalan Institute of Nanoscience and Nanotechnology (ICN2), with the purpose of offering my most sincere and strongest recommendation in favor of Jan Garcia, who has collaborated with us as an intern in the Level 1 Helpdesk area for the past two years.

Throughout this period, Jan's performance and commitment have been absolutely excellent, a 10 out of 10. In a highly demanding scientific and technological environment such as ours, he has been responsible for receiving, diagnosing, and resolving the daily technical incidents raised by the institute's users. His ability to manage the workload efficiently and quickly, and above all with impeccable human and professional treatment, has become a key asset to the smooth functioning of our support service.

Beyond his solid technical skills, which have grown exponentially, I would like to highlight his personal qualities. Jan has proven himself to be:

- Proactive and resourceful: with a strong ability to anticipate problems and find efficient solutions independently.
- An excellent team player: with a natural ease for integrating, collaborating, and contributing positively to the department's day-to-day work.
- Committed to learning: always willing to take on new challenges and to train himself in the technologies and procedures of our infrastructure.

I am fully convinced that Jan will be a highly valuable asset to any organization or IT department looking for a serious, efficient professional with great growth potential. He has my highest recommendation without any reservation.

I remain fully at your disposal for any additional information or clarification you may need.

Sincerely,
Javier González Ortega
